Some see a premium SUV. We see personal progress

The new Audi Q2 is a boldly urban SUV that's made to serve your personal style and your driving ambitions. Not only do its striking looks and edgy road presence create standout on any street-corner, its intuitive technologies and wide range of infotainment options make it an ideal companion for spontaneous adventure. Behind the wheel, the new Audi Q2's progressive steering and agile handling deliver driving excitement both in the bustling confines of your city and... far beyond.

Strikingly designed. Outstandingly extroverted

Charismatic and outgoing, the new Audi Q2 is not only impressive in its design, it also comes with progressive steering for convenience and enjoyment that's not limited to the city. Its extroverted personality has been brought to life with a new front and rear bumper design and dynamic body lines that embody its powerful appearance. The optional Advanced and S line trimline, range of new wheels and body colours allow you to create a bold SUV with its own distinctive identity and look.

Sporty and well-connected

Innovative, flexible and equipped with a full colour driver information system and a user-friendly multi-media interface, the new Audi Q2 makes it easier than ever to stay in touch while you're out on the road.

Its beautifully styled cabin brings its vibrant exterior into the interior. Optional features like Audi's ambient lighting plus package let you tailor the colour scheme of your Audi Q2 to your mood and preference, with LED technology for glare-free and immersive lighting. Sports seats are available as standard with on the Advanced and S line trims.

Your performance, accelerated

The Technology package

The new Audi Q2's optional technology package places a range of innovative technologies, right at your fingertips.
